

DATES: Gilmour

Gilmour goes it

PINK Floyd's David Gilmour is coming to Scotland.

Gilmour, best known as guitarist and vocalist with Pink Floyd, will play at Glasgow's Clyde Auditorium on Saturday, May 27.

Other dates include three nights at London's Albert Hall and one at Manchester's Bridgewater Hall.

Gilmour was

Exclusive

instrumental in Pink Floyd's massive success during the 1970s, including his distinctive vocals on Dark Side of the Moon, the alone

third most successful album of all time.

His latest project is a new solo album set for release later this year. On An Island will be accompanied by four dates in North America and more dates in Europe.

Tickets, limited to four per person, are priced £40 and £50, go on sale at 9.00am tomorrow.