Gilmour

tribute to

sad Syd

PINK Floyd's David Gilmour is releasing three tracks in memory of former band-mate Syd Barrett.

One is a live version of Barrett classic Arnold Layne, recorded by Gilmour and David Bowie.

There will also be a version of Dark Globe, a Barrett track, and a version of Arnold Layne featuring Pink Floyd keyboard player Richard Wright.

They will be sold on digital download from December 25 and be in shops from December 26.

Barrett died in July aged 60. He left the band in 1968 due to drugs.
